

Sub-specialisation

OH providers supporting NHS staff must have arrangements in place to offer a range of special expertise when it is needed within the NHS. These sub-specialist areas include:

- blood-borne viruses
- tuberculosis
- occupational asthma
- sick senior health professionals
- radiation
- genetically modified organisms (and genetherapy)
- outbreaks and disaster preparedness
- research
- ergonomics
- cytotoxics.