

Clinical information exchange

OH providers supporting NHS staff should have arrangements in place:

- To share information with other providers. This should include the exchange of information concerning the immunisation status of staff.
- To use the bi-directional information exchange systems developed for ESR (the HR database) where available. This is essential for OH providers supporting trusts that are host employers for medical trainees.